Are you paying for your son or daughter's books? What happens if they need to return, exchange or purchase additional books? We have a method to make this simple for your family. This form enables your son or daughter to make returns, exchanges, or additional textbook purchases with your credit card number. They are not required to have your credit card present. Your son or daughter will need a valid picture ID at the time of purchase, and we will bill or credit your card with their signature. They can make purchases for books, school supplies, clothing, gift items and more. You can also restrict the usage of the card to textbooks and supplies if you wish.
